MORE INFORMATION

This is an short, easy song. Most students will not be reading much - or any - notation for the hands alone or parallel versions at this time.

All versions are entirely in a 5 finger pattern starting on C. Just color code the notes to match the finger colors (a la Anybody Can Play PIANO app) and the students will be able to play this song. (Sample below) In fact, this would be a good activity - finding notes that look alike and color coding them properly.

Just remind them to keep their hands in position as they play.

Here are some tiny reminder hands. I cut around the hands (a bit closer than my dotted line sample), then laminate them so they can be used frequently.
