

AWAY IN A MANGER

The following pages are 2 different versions of Away in a Manger.

The first four pages are for the right hand alone in a large format complete with a keystrip drawing showing placement for the hand on the keys.

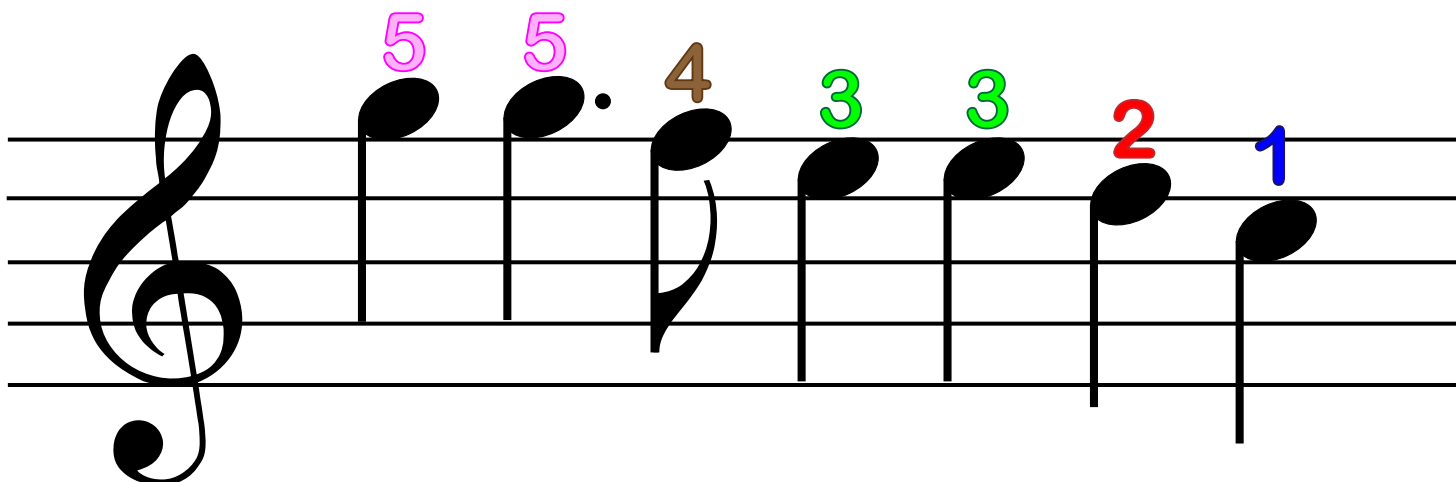

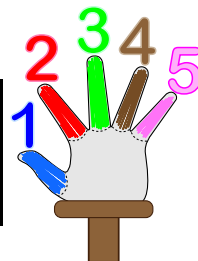

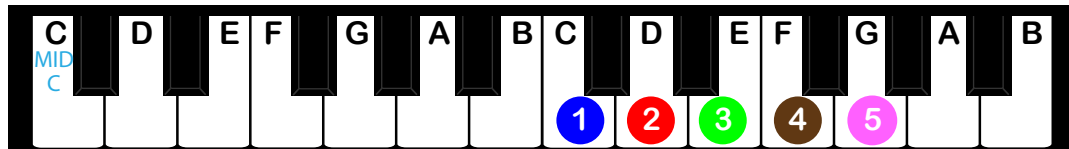

The following page is the complete song on one sheet.

The last two pages are an easy contrary version of Away in a Manger.

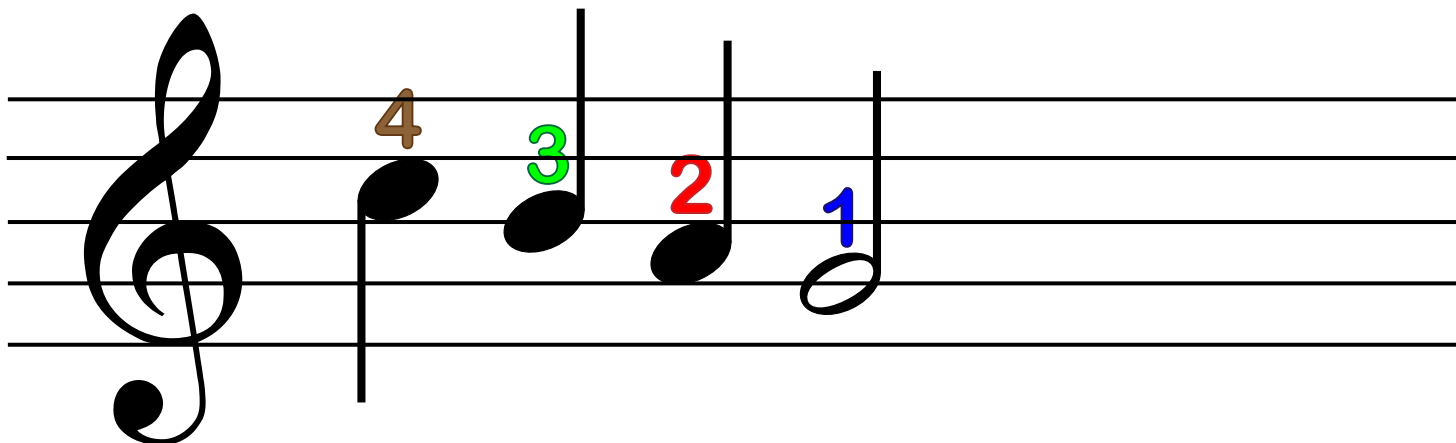

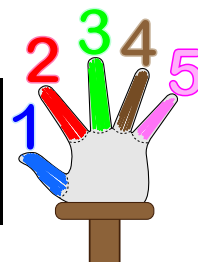

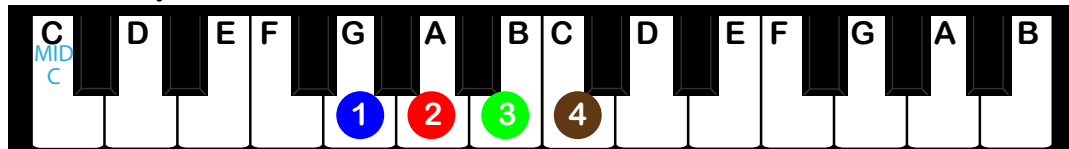

The fingering numbers on the notes are color coded to the little hand. The Anybody Can Play Piano app uses color coding for part of the instruction since the app can be used for very young beginner pianists. Even senior citizen aged beginners have told me they like the colors!
