GENERAL: Level 2

As with Level 1, listening and singing the songs that the students are learning on the computer program really facilitate their learning process. Of course, any of the other activities can be used in subjects other than the ones indicated.

At this time, the finger colors should be becoming quite internalized, so when listening or singing the songs keep tapping or trying to tap the appropriately colored fingers when possible. This begins the process of combining the skills necessary to play the piano.

Also encourage the students to use both hands simultaneously when tapping, not just use their primary hand. If that still seems difficult, have them use one hand at a time, but always have them do the activity with each hand.

And again, be creative. If you look at an activity and think "Hmmm.....I know something that would be a good thing to do for learning or improving this skill...", go ahead and do it! I really appreciate your ideas!

For those of you who want to know more......

The channel with all the playlists regarding the Anybody Can Play PIANO app can be found on YouTube simply by searching "karla hastings crossett". The website is: www.anybodycanplay.com