

Dots on Keys GAME

Step5DotsOnKeys.pdf anybodycanplay.com

Dots on Keys GAME

Step5DotsOnKeys.pdf anybodycanplay.com

Dots on Keys GAME

This game is like the Dot Sheet Game, only the dots are lined up on little piano keys. This is initiating the skill of looking horizontally along the keys on a piano while touching them with the proper fingers.

These sheets can be used for right hand alone for review, left hand alone, or both hands together. These two sheets for Step 5 have the colors in parallel so the fingers are touching in the same way as they would when playing the melody of a song with both hands at the same time.

- Cut these sheets apart, trim and laminate (so there is laminate around the edges).
- Call out a color
- Have children touch with right hand, left hand or both hands.
 - >If children are having difficulty, just "walk through" directions like:
 - >"I said touch red with both hands.
 - >Look at that little hand above the keys.
 - >Which right hand finger is red?
 - >Touch the red round dot with your right hand red finger.
 - >Which left hand finger is red?
 - >Touch that square dot with your left hand red finger.
- Keep increasing speed as children internalize the colors.